

SERENA FERRARO

Web Developer

Profile

Last year, I discovered a new passion for programming, which has taken me on an exciting journey from flight cabins to writing code. After completing a Full Stack Developer course, I've built several projects (available on this site) that highlight my skills and growth. I'm now ready to bring my problem-solving mindset, attention to detail, and newly developed technical abilities to a programming role where I can continue learning and make a meaningful contribution..
